

WATSON MADE
ADDRESS OF DAYAt the State Encampment of the Knights of Pythias
in Indianapolis

FOLLOWED BY FAIRBANKS

Rushville Boys are in the Limelight, and are Given a Deal of Notice

The Rushville Knights of Pythias, while many are suffering with "army-nitis," are pretty much in the lime-light at the State Encampment at Indianapolis this week. The Indianapolis Star today has the following Rushville notes:

James E. Watson was billed for the principal address. In addition to his address, speeches were delivered by Governor Frank J. Hanly, George W. Powell, Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks and Charles W. Miller.

Mr. Watson began with reference to conversation he had had with Grand Chancellor Jone Monvhan, in which Monvhan told him he was to deliver the principal address. He said that Monvhan had told him that all the rest of the speakers were to be limited, but he was not to be.

"I was about to praise the grand chancellor of Indiana," said the speaker, "but I have discovered in the last few minutes that I was the victim of a base trick. Just before I am announced, a tenor singer comes before you and sings, 'Just One Word of Consolation,' and then, as if this were not enough, you applaud this sentiment and he sings again, 'Some Sweet Day It Will All Come Come Right. Cheer up.'"

The audience laughed heartily.

Mr. Watson proceeded in a more serious vein, giving in brief the history of Pythianism, praising its principles and complimenting the order on its growth and influence for good.

One of the distinguished visitors of the camp yesterday was Congressman James E. Watson.

Dr. C. S. Green, of Rushville, was entertained by Company 35 of that place.

Mrs. G. H. Caldwell visited the Ivy Company 35 of Rushville yesterday. Her husband is captain of the organization.

Mrs. Grant Gregg, Mrs. F. S. Reynolds and Mrs. D. B. Stewart visited their husbands who are camping with the Rushville Company, yesterday.

The Ivy Company of Rushville entertained Mayor H. M. Cowing, yesterday. He is a member of the organization, but was unable to camp with the Knights.

Will Brown finished threshing yesterday evening and immediately left for Indianapolis to drill with Ivy Company No. 35, K. of P. of which he is a member.

Ivy Company U. R. K. of P. of Rushville, numbering twenty-five men, which holds a prize captured at the Louisville national encampment, presented an imposing appearance in the parade. This company is in command of George H. Caldwell, treasurer of Rush county, and formerly a lieutenant in the regular army. It is considered a strong factor in the drill contest to be held today. The company wears new uniforms purchased a few days ago.

"If the next Governor of Indiana is not a Pythian I'll be very much surprised," declared a high officer of the order in Indiana yesterday. Look over the list, will you.

"Dan Simms, James E. Watson, John W. Kern, Charles W. Miller, William L. Taylor, J. A. M. Adair, Charles E. Shiveley—they are all Pythians—and I just wish you would name me a prominent man who would do for gubernatorial timber at all who is not a Knight. Maybe I have not named the next Governor in the list I mentioned, but you take a whirl at it. You name the man and I'll show you that he is a Pythian.

Ivy Company No. 3355, Rushville K. of P. will compete for the first prize in Class C, tomorrow at Riverside Park.

Congressman James E. Watson was a guest of Gen. Wilson at Camp James R. Ross yesterday morning. Mr. Watson is a veteran in Pythianism. Many of the older members of the Knights recognized him and greeted him as "colonel."

"Not 'colonel,' if you please," said the congressman, "just plain 'Jim.'"

Years ago Mr. Watson organized a company of Uniformed Knights at Winchester and became captain of the company. In later years he was colonel of the Third Regiment. He was as popular as a Knight of Pythias as he is a politician.

"We're for Watson for Governor," declared many a Knight yesterday, "if he'll only run." Mr. Watson blushed and declined to make definite announcement.

Watson has had many honors at the hands of the Knights of the State. He has been colonel of a regiment, grand chancellor of the subordinate lodge and a supreme representative.

No One Forgotten

A committee composed of D. M. Kinney, L. B. Downey, I. L. Clifford, and J. K. Mattox, was recently appointed by the local post of the G. A. R. to erect one of the metal grave markers at the resting place of each soldier who has been buried in the local graveyards.

The committee was composed of four men in order that the chances of missing a grave might be lessened. Members of the G. A. R. in this city state that John F. Moses and John Plough know more about the deceased members of the post than any other men in Rushville.

HORSE'S TAIL WAS TORN OFF BY BELT"Fly Brush" Caught Near the Machinery and "De-tailed"
the Equine

A peculiar and odd accident occurred at the Frazee farm yesterday afternoon when one of Alec McEllifresh's horses was "ruined for life."

The horse was standing near the belt running from a threshing machine to an engine, and in some inexplicable manner, its tail was caught on the belt, and pulled off. And before the machinery could be stopped the tail from the horse's hip was torn off, and a large strip of hide literally torn from its body.

While passing over a bridge near Moscow last night, the heavy traction engine belonging to William Redinbaugh, broke through and fell into the water below. It required several hours to remove the monster engine, and traffic along the pike was delayed for some time. With the assistance of all the denizens of the neighborhood, the engine was placed on "its feet."

A report came today to the effect that George Forsythe formerly of Rush county, was found dead in a barn at Alliance, Indiana. No particular could be learned. Mr. Forsythe has two sisters living in Milroy, Mrs. John Hill and Mrs. James Whittinger.

Forsythe left here about one year ago, and it is understood, has never communicated with any of his relatives since leaving. Neither of his sisters were apprised of his death—which occurred last week—and have written to Alliance for the particulars. It was only through a friend of the family at Milroy that relatives learned of the unfortunate man's sudden demise. Death was due to natural causes.

COTTON UNABLE TO

tember 5th

For some time it has been the hope of the local School Board to secure Fasset A. Cotton, State Superintendent of Schools, to deliver the principal address at the dedication of the new school buildings in this city September 5th, but that hope vanished when President Ernest B. Thomas approached Supt. Cotton on the subject. Supt. Cotton was here today to address the Teachers' Institute at the Chautauqua grounds, and expressed a deep regret on not being able to accept the invitation to speak at the dedication, but as he had already made dates to attend eleven institutes about that time, it would be impossible for him to be here.

Betker Looking For The Hairy Star

Dora Betker is a man that is always interested in any and everything out of the ordinary. And maybe it is for that reason that he is intensely interesting in himself—but that's another story; we would speak of his interest in the Daniel comet which is visible each morning now about 3:30 o'clock. Too early for T. W., but nevertheless he was interested.

Thinking he could see the muchly talked about hairy star early in the evening, he inquired among his friends for a telescope.

Yes! one of them had a most powerful instrument and he would gladly loan it to Mr. Betker. Last night, he brought it to the store, carefully packed in cotton in a nest case.

With all the enthusiasm of a boy, Dora unwrapped the "sky glass," and struck a pose outside his store, gazing heavenward, with the glass to his eye.

But bless your soul, he couldn't see a blooming thing. For fully thirty minutes he worked with "that thing," turning and twisting everything movable, and at last he gave it up, declaring he could not get the proper focus.

Little wonder!—It was a microscope instead of a telescope; one of those things they sell on the corner for twenty-five cents, and which are used to examine prunes that one can see the thousands and thousands of living parasites, germs and microbes, consumed in boarding houses.

Injuries in an Accident
Yesterday Afternoon

Selman Webb, the drayman, had a narrow escape from serious injury in an accident yesterday. He was in the act of getting on his dray, when the horse started up and he fell forward to the ground, sustaining a bruised shoulder and arm and throwing his wrist out of place.

He suffered the entire night with the injuries, but was able to be out today.

SAVED THE CITY
SEVERAL HUNDREDFixed a Water Well For Fifty Cents Which Was Going to Cost City $400.

Municipalities often spend money in the wrong way, even when the men in charge of the public treasury are honest and are seeking the interests of the population. An example of this was recently revealed in this city, when experts stated that it would take $400 to fix one of the wells at the water and light plant. The water supply from this well was very valuable to the city, and repairs was desirable of having the well made, but felt as though $400 was an enormous sum to spend in repairing a well.

When Mr. Mahin took his office as superintendent of the water and light plant he began to look over the city's plant in order to see where repairs were needed. Among other things, Mr. Mahin investigated the cost of repairs on the broken down well. Upon reporting to the councilmen that he had fixed the well in question and that it cost just fifty cents, and that he had saved the city $399.50, the city dads almost threw fits, thinking that Mr. Mahin had performed a "presto change" trick.

DR. BRISTOL ON "BRAINS"

Brings Lecture to a Point Around the Little Red School House and School Teacher

The Chautauqua tent was crowded last night by people who were anxious to hear Dr. Frank Bristol's lecture on "Brains," but the large audience was surprised by the lecturer's trend of thought when he focused his subject about the "little red school house," and upon the education of the young man.

Dr. Bristol stated that a man's brains or his ability is not measured by the size of his hat, but by the quality of his intellectual power. He gave statistics to show that men of equal greatness possessed brains which varied in weight, showing that the development of a brain cell was the element which creates intellectual power.

But this part of Dr. Bristol's lecture was only introductory. He discussed the institutions which develop brains, and lamented the fact that men thought more of money than they do of their children's education. He referred to instances which had come before his observation where cattle herders and bootblacks received more money in some localities than the school teachers.

In some cities the salaries paid to school teachers average about ninety cents a day, declared Dr. Bristol, and in the same localities day laborers are paid much higher wages.

School teachers at the present time as a whole are not teaching because they like to, but are accepting positions of this nature in order to get the salaries which are carefully saved and used for the most part in completing their educations. As soon as a man or woman graduates from an American college today, he does not consider the proposition of teaching school for a living, but enters some other profession where the salary is large. The salary of the school teacher is not large enough to attract talented men and women who expect to follow their profession of a teacher during their life time.

Mr. Bristol did not criticize the work which is being accomplished by the modern school teacher, claiming that the school system of today is as good as could be expected under the circumstances. The position of teacher is only a stepping stone to some other position at the present time, whereas if the salary paid the school man was large enough to attract talented men, the schools would be attracting the "brainiest" men and women graduating from our higher institutions of learning.

The American craze for the "almighty dollar" has led us to pay our harvest hands and our workmen on the streets higher salaries than the school teacher, who is supposed to shape the ideals of our young and to build in them personalities which are the divine structures of man. David Starr Jordan, president of Leland Stanford University has said, "The whole of a man's life must be spent in his own company and only an educated man is fit company for himself."

This one sentence is a sermon in itself. Give a man education and true refinement and to a certain extent he ceases the mad race for "coin." Prison records tell us that nine-tenths of all criminals are comparatively uneducated men.

It is an acknowledged fact that ignorance in the present age is a crime. Dr. Bristol stated that our forefathers were in a sense ignorant, but they were not to be blamed of that. In the present age when the Americans have the school system, the press, the pulpit and various other things which are educational factors, there is no excuse for ignorance.

The brainiest men in our country today, the "men" who are devoting their lives to study and teaching in our higher educational institutions are not money mad. At Leland Stanford University some of the workmen who are engaged in rebuilding structures which were destroyed in the earthquake, are receiving better salaries than the men who have burned the midnight oil for years, and who have toiled to acquire knowledge in order that they might be professors in the same educational institution. These are the men who are the true brains of our country, and these are the men of smallest pay.

The great literary artists of the ages as a rule were poor men. They did not care. They did not worry about their financial conditions. The literary productions of the present age have taken on the modern hue—they are written quickly and carelessly, money and not art being the motive which drives the author on.

Money has driven our country "dollar mad." In the wild scramble for wealth which exists, men think more declared Dr. Bristol, of leaving their children's wealth than they do of leaving their brains and happiness.

The "little red school" house which is after all the true basis of our country's greatness should have more attention. The men who are moulding the characters, personalities, and minds of our young men and women should at least receive larger salaries than the men who do manual labor in our streets.

It is the general opinion of teachers in our public schools and of men who hold chairs in our colleges and universities that the time is coming in the near future when our school system will be placed on a firmer basis. The great work of our school system at the present time is in fact a credit to our country, but good American "horse sense" will better it.

BASE BALL

The Regulars will do battle next Sunday with the strong Gwynneville aggregation, and a good game is promised. The locals have strengthened their team with Nick Tompkins, John Geraghty, Roy Thompson and Owen McKee. Pruitt will pitch the game, and Willis and Baltimore O'Neil will be in the game, and it looks as though a team with such talent could wipe the earth with Gwynneville, regardless of the fact that the latter team has defeated Morristown and a number of strong teams this season. If the attendance warrants it next Sunday, two more hard hitting fielders will be added for the game with Moscow the following Sunday.

QUEER OLD MAN
PLACED IN JAILIn a Sad Mental Condition and Talks of Fifty Million Dollars and Years

HE OPPOSES ROMANISM

And Apparently Lost His Mind
Over Religious—Been Sleeping Out-of doors

"It's been fifty million years since I was in this town before" said an old man with a grip, standing on the Windsor hotel corner this morning, and surveying first up one street and down another.

"You know," he continued, in a rambling bit of reminiscence, "I am the man that owns all the banks in the world. I own fifty million banks—fifty million. Yes sree. You see I am here to save the people. God sent me. I am the light. I will save the world. I came here from Knights-town. I am also buying horses for the French army. I want 150,000 horses. That many if not more. We need them. You know we have a war on there. It is a holy war, and I am managing it. I am the sole manager and proprietor of that war. Yes sree. You see they tried to crush me. But I have invested fifty million dollars in ammunition, and I intend to fight for fifty million years, but what win. They have crushed me, but they cannot crush the light. Catholicity crushed me, and I mean to separate the church from the State. It's a job, but God knows can do it. I was formerly a King in Ireland, and they induced me to join a circus and come to the States. I am here, because God deigned it so. My daughter! (his eyes were raised heavenward) my daughter! Where is she. (Looking around the corner.) I thought she was here with me. No, no, no, I remember, I remember—left her in Evansville. Her husband robbed me of fifty million dollars. Can't you find me a place to rest. I am tired. I have walked all night to get here. But I am the light."

The poor unfortunate was fairly out of breath as he continued speaking without ever stopping so much as a second to rest. His appearance bore evidence of the fact that he had indeed been walking all the night. He was a man of about fifty-five years, and his eyes and the color of his face and lips told the story of his unbalanced mental condition.

"What!" he would suddenly say with a start, "me, me, William Robinson, non compos mentis. Not for fifty million years."

Nearly all of the old man's figures were fifty million years. When Officer Pea arrived and started to take the demented man to jail, he held back saying: "You are not going to kill me, are you a gendarme? I don't want to be crushed. I—I—I—fear to die." But when the officer assured him that he was taking him to an abode to rest he willingly went along.

From the marks on his linen and in some of his books it is thought that his name is William Robinson and that he lives in Evansville. In an overcoat pocket he had a Roman Catholic catechism and in another a King James edition of the Bible. It is thought that he lost his mind over religion. The Evansville police will be communicated with.

No matter in what part of the State they lose their mind, it seems as if they come here to stay with Sheriff King.

COUNCIL INDIGNANT

Indianapolis City Fathers Object to Police Court Decision.

Indianapolis, Aug. 15.—The Indianapolis city council may pass an ordinance limiting the operation of saloons to a small portion of the business district of Indianapolis. Several members of the council are indignant over the decision of Police Judge Whallon that the ordinance authorizing them to pass on applications for retail liquor license is unconstitutional, and they are threatening to establish regulations that will close the doors of several hundred saloons. Fred Eppert, president of the council, said today that if Judge Whallon's decision is to stand he favors an ordinance establishing boundaries within which saloons may be conducted. Eppert and several other councilmen are in favor of an ordinance that will keep saloons out of the residence districts. There are between 700 and 800 saloons in Indianapolis. A large majority of them are in the factory and residence districts. The supreme court held recently that city councils have the power to establish boundaries within which saloons may operate, so the council here has the power to deliver a body blow at the liquor interests.

Between 4,000 and 5,000 men took part yesterday afternoon in the Knights of Pythias parade, which was headed by Brigadier General Merrill Wilson, commander of the Uniform Rank of the state. Supreme Chancellor Barnes, head of the K. of P. order of the world, rode in the parade with Grand Chancellor Monahan. General George Powell welcomed the visitors to Indianapolis on behalf of the city. Governor Hanly extended a welcome on behalf of the state. Speeches by Vice President Fairbanks, Congressman Watson and others were of an informal nature. At a meeting last night the new Pythian grand lodge building was turned over to Grand Chancellor Monahan by General Powell as chairman of the commission that had charge of it. The building cost about $350,000, and is one of the finest structures in the state.

In spite of the heavy death-roll among the veterans of the civil war, the semi-annual report of Colonel J. R. Fessler, assistant adjutant general, shows that the membership for the Indiana department of the G. A. R. has increased thirteen during the last six months. The department now owns $115,878.86 worth of property and has $64,130.02 in its treasury. During the six months 248 new members were admitted, 108 were received by transfer and 383 by reinstatement, making a total of 744. During the same time 291 members died, 46 were honorably discharged, 96 lost by transfer, 297 suspended and one dishonorably discharged, the total loss being 731. Two posts surrendered their charters. The present membership of the G. A. R. in Indiana is 14,028.

After spending a day in conference with Joe Kealing and other political friends, Senator James A. Hemenway left last night for Booneville. He will start at once on an Eastern trip lasting several days. The senator met a number of party leaders while here. He talked politics, but it is said that there was nothing of momentous importance doing. The senator called on Vice President Fairbanks and talked with him regarding the latter's boom. The vice president is counting on Senator Hemenway as one of the managers for his campaign during the coming winter.

WOMAN MURDERED

San Diego Police Have Evidence Pointing to Tragedy.

San Diego, Cal., Aug. 15.—The finding of portions of a woman's clothing, torn and bloody, on the outer end of the Santa Fe docks last night, and a wisp of woman's hair lying near by, full of blood, caused belief that a tragedy had been committed. A woman's garter and a black leather purse were also found. In the latter was a note reading: "Dear May—Meet me tonight, old place, at 8 p. m. If you do not I will fix him and you both. Believe me, I am dead in earnest. So let my little sweetheart come.—B. K." A line of blood-spots led from the place where evidently there had been a struggle, to the edge of the wharf, and this led to the suspicion that a woman had been murdered and the body thrown into the water. The authorities are investigating.

CABLE'S COMPETITOR

Regular Transatlantic Wireless Service Soon to Begin.

New York, Aug. 15.—John Bottomley, secretary and treasurer of the Marconi Telegraph Company of America, last night said:

"For some weeks now regular communications between the Irish coast and Glace Bay have been going on very successfully. They are no longer troubled by the sun's rays, and messages can be sent in the day without any trouble. While they have as yet made no formal announcement, I believe that by the end of September we shall be ready to open to the public and transmit commercial messages from one side to the other."

Word has been received from London that William Marconi will leave England Aug. 22 to open the transatlantic telegraph service. It is declared that satisfactory exchanges of messages between the Irish students at Clifton and the Canadian students at Cape Breton have been going on for weeks. A schedule of charges is issued showing the rate to be 10 cents a word plus the land charges.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 5th 1907. Editor Republican:

I find in Michigan that the political game is warming up, just now. Delegates are being selected for the constitutional convention which convenes this fall to work over the Michigan constitution, and a fight for selection of delegates is stirring the State as much as a State election. Any changes made or additions thereto will have to be ratified by the people at the next election so Michigan will have some thing doing until after the next Presidential election.

Michigan is unqualifiedly for Mr. Roosevelt for renomination but this does not mean Mr. Roosevelt can control the State for any one else, he might feel he wanted to succeed himself.

When through here three or four months ago it seemed to me that Mr. Fairbanks stood no show whatever but I find quite a kindly feeling growing for him now. Such papers as Detroit Free Press, Grand Rapids Herald, Saginaw Times and many other papers of lesser note are, in sizing up the situation, conceding him to be the strongest and most formidable candidate. All concede he has had a campaign managed very adroitly, and is gaining every day among the conservative element of the Republican party, and many cool headed Republicans feel we are much in need of a cool head and conservative president; all of this of course is favorable to Mr. Fairbanks.

The general impression seems to be growing that Senator Foraker will have strength enough in Ohio to practically put Mr. Taft out of the running.

Grand Rapids is the home of William Alden Smith, United States Senator. He was formally in Congress and elected to the Senate as successor to R. A. Alger. Mr. Smith was one time a newsboy, and last night when he passed by two prominent men sitting in front of the hotel remarked that they had bought many papers of him when he was a barefooted boy hustling for sales, and he is still the same hustler. Senator Smith is an able man and his word and actions carry a great influence; he stands close to "Uncle Joe" Cannon and is a particular friend of Senator Hemenway. There are just now, those of us who sell steel goods, who are enjoying the lovely benefits of protective tariff, sheet steel being raised $6 per ton last week. The manufacturer, the jobber, local dealer, and farmers who use steel farm implements will all feel it. A self binder will be about $15 higher next year and everything else in proportion. The men who go to Congress next year will have to guarantee some relief in some way or I will miss my guess if they go many times again. The tariff needs adjusting to present conditions and present times.

Michigan like Indiana is in a prosperous condition, factories running at full limit and help scarce. Up here they will have fruit in abundance.

Gov. Warner is talking of running for third term as Governor but when I hear of the third term it always reminds me of the governor in Northwest Ohio when Foraker was running for the third term as Governor over there.

Foraker was making a speech to a farmer audience, and he knew the farmers were not much impressed with a third term idea. He said to them: "If you hired a man to work for you for one year and he was diligent, faithful and honest, wouldn't you hire him the second year?" The farmers assented. "Then if diligent and faithful the second year, wouldn't you continue him the third year?" All were silent for a minute; then a brawny farmer who saw the point, and where the Governor was placing them said: "Hold on Governor. We wouldn't if by that time he thought he owned the whole place." And history shows how Foraker was succeeded by a Democrat. So it might be with Governor Warner if he attempts to run the third time.

NO CABINET CHANGES

Secretary Taft Denies Rumors in This Direction.

Washington, Aug. 15.—Secretary Taft is revising the proofs of the speech which he expects to deliver next Monday night before the Buckeye Republican club at Columbus, O., and in which he will sound the keynote of the next Republican campaign. Among other things he will have something to say about the Brownsville episode. The secretary said the financial conditions of the country were not discussed with the president yesterday, and he would not have anything to say on that subject in his Columbus speech. The secretary said that he planned to complete his inspection in the Philippines, so as to be able to start from Manila on the return journey to Washington on November 7.

In the course of his talk with the newspaper men, Secretary Taft alluded to the current reports of impending cabinet changes, which appear to be an outgrowth of the disturbed financial conditions in New York. He said he felt authorized in this case to state positively that there were to be no resignations in the cabinet, so far as known to the members thereof.

The receiver appointed for the Pope Manufacturing company is Albert L. Pope, vice president of the concern. A representative of the company makes the following statement:

"The receiver is due to our inability to obtain accommodation from the banks. We have plenty of assets and are doing an excellent business. We can say nothing more at this moment. The receivership came suddenly."

HEAVY INCREASE

Has Been Noted by Charities Board in State's Prison Population.

FIGURES ARE DECEPTIVE

While the Prisons Have More Inmates Than Ever Before Crime Is Shown to Be on the Decrease.

This Is Accounted For by Working of Indeterminate Sentence Law and Parole Law.

Indianapolis, Aug. 15.—The board of state charities, which has been interested for some time in noting the steadily increasing population of the state prison at Michigan City and the reformatory at Jeffersonville, has issued the following statement: "At this time the two institutions have a total of 2,211 inmates—1,052 in the state prison and 1,159 in the reformatory. This is the highest population in their history. Their average attendance for the first six months of the present fiscal year was 2,127, as against 1,993 for the same period in 1906 and 1,913 in 1905. In looking back over the records for the last five years it has been found that the daily average number of inmates was 20.7 per cent greater in the first six months of 1907 than in the corresponding period of 1902.

"The natural inference would be that crime is increasing, but as a matter of fact, fewer men are committed to prison now than there were five years ago. In the twelve months ending with June 30, 1902, 632 men were committed to the state prison and the reformatory, while for the twelve months ending with June 30, 1907, there were but 595, or thirty-seven less commitments.

"It is a remarkable fact that while there has been a continual and rapid increase in the population of the state the last five years have witnessed an actual decrease of 6 per cent in the number of commitments to the state's penal institutions for men.

"It is, therefore, to some other source that we must look for the increase in the number of inmates in the prisons, and this is found in the workings of the indeterminate sentence and parole laws. Those who have been studying the results obtained under these laws have seen how they tend to increase the length of time men are kept in prison. Another fact which has been brought out by reports from the two institutions is that fewer men are being paroled. In 1902, 466 men were released on parole, while in 1907 there were but 307, or 159 less men so released.

"The figures in both cases are for the twelve months ending with June 30. The state prison paroled 217 men in 1902 and only 123 in 1907. The reformatory paroled 249 men in 1902 and 184 in 1907. This indicates that the parole boards are less liberal now in administering the parole laws than they were five years ago, and the result is a greater number of men left in the institutions. At the reformatory the daily average attendance for the first six months of 1902 was 897.5, while for the same period in 1907 it was 1,135.98. The increase is 238.48, or 26.5 per cent. Similar records from the state prison show an average attendance there of 864.12 for the first six months of 1902, and 991.5 for the first six months of 1907. The increase is 127.38, or 14.7 per cent. The reformatory population, therefore, is increasing at a rate almost double that of the state prison.

"These are interesting figures, but the point to be emphasized is that notwithstanding a greater number of prisoners at the present time, the number of men committed to prison is not only relatively but actually less now than five years ago."

CORONER'S VERDICT

Official Finding in the Mysterious Hudson Case.

Noblesville, Ind., Aug. 15.—The burial of the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hudson, victims of the recent tragedy, took place yesterday afternoon in the same grave in Crownland cemetery, near this city, under I. O. O. F. direction, of which order the late Mr. Hudson was a member. It was the largest funeral ever held in the little church.

Coroner Ray has filed his verdict with the county clerk. After giving briefly the testimony of a dozen witnesses, the coroner reached the conclusion that Hudson shot his wife and then himself. The coroner adds that Miss Alta Hudson, the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Hudson, coincides with his own opinion in this respect. However, the coroner does not attempt to assign any cause for the tragedy, and he places no credence in the story that Hudson brooded over the necessity of leaving his little farm till his mind gave way.

Relatives will not subscribe to the theory of murder and suicide except on the ground that Hudson was insane. One relative suggests that Hudson might have killed his wife in a dream, and that when he realized what he had done he concluded to kill himself.

The failure of the Pope Manufacturing company caused one of the biggest surprises Hartford, Conn., has known.

NO INTERFERENCE

President Roosevelt Maintains a Hands Off Attitude Toward Strike.

MR. NEIL IS DOING ENOUGH

It is Held That the Administration
Is Efficiently Represented Through Commissioner of Labor.

Many Boards of Trade Had Appealed to the President to Take a Hand in the Strike.

Oyster Bay, L. I., Aug. 15.—President Roosevelt will not concern himself personally with the telegraphers' strike, according to the best information obtainable here today. Appeals to the president to take some action looking to a settlement of the strike have been received at the executive office here from boards of trade and commercial bodies of a large number of cities. The applications were similar in character to those formulated by the Chicago board of trade.

The communications have been referred to Commissioner of Labor Neil. It is understood that no instructions or recommendations have been forwarded to Mr. Neil. It is stated here that he has as yet made no report to the president, nor has he received messages from Mr. Roosevelt touching upon the matter in hand.

Mr. Neil's movements, however, have been closely followed, and while the direct statement is not made, the impression is given that in Mr. Neil's effort the administration considers that the limit of its functions and authority in the matter is being exercised.

TRADERS HARD HIT

Business of Chicago Board Cut From 50 to 75 Per Cent.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—An appeal to President Roosevelt to end the telegraph strike was made by the board of trade. It is declared that the business of the board has been cut from 50 to 75 per cent. A special committee of the board of trade was called on to formulate a letter, which was sent, as follows:

"Theodore Roosevelt, President, Oyster Bay, N. Y.:

"The business of this great country, which is suffering such serious loss to the extent of millions of dollars every day on account of the deadlock between the telegraph companies and their operators, demands an immediate settlement of the differences at issue, so that a national calamity may be averted. In this great emergency we look to the chief executive of this country to take a personal hand.

"H. M. SAGER,
"President Board of Trade."

Cash grain interests particularly are acute sufferers from the present situation. This is especially true in regard to shippers and handlers of oats, the movement of which is just entering on the annual rush. Consignments of new oats were received in large volume yesterday and an avalanche of grain is headed this way either on consignment or on direct purchases.

Local shipping interests, which under normal conditions take hold of the grain as soon as it arrives here, have withdrawn from the market to a large extent, owing to the lack of communication with the East, where they in turn market their purchases. Sales normally are based on the exact market price of the speculative future at the time the sale is made. This requires almost instantaneous communication between buyer and seller, and is, of course, impossible under present conditions.

SOMEWHAT CONFUSING

Railway Telegraphers Are Apparently Stretching Their Defense Fund.

Kansas City, Aug. 15.—Cal E. Ryle, chairman of the grievance committee of the local union of the Commercial Telegraphers, declared that the Order of Railway Telegraphers had tendered to the commercial men now on strike their $1,000,000 reserve fund.

The official record of the proceedings of the biennial session of the Railroad Telegraphers, held at Minneapolis last May, however, shows that according to the report of L. W. Quick, grand secretary-treasurer, the Order of Railway Telegraphers has no such huge fund available to aid an allied union. As a matter of fact, the report of Secretary-Treasurer Quick shows that the protective fund on March 31, 1907, showed a balance on hand of only $62,404.37.

The report of Mr. Quick did show that his order had a total of $159,288.24 on hand March 31, 1907, in the general fund of the order, but this would not appear to be available for use in aiding allied unions. The members of the Order of Railway Telegraphers cannot be assessed without a referendum vote, a majority of the members voting for the assessment.

To take a referendum vote of 36,000 members would be a big task and would consume several weeks' time.

situation today as far as concerns New York and other Eastern cities. The Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies profess to be thoroughly satisfied with the progress made toward normal conditions. On the other hand, the leaders of the strikers declare their cause has been strengthened by the responses to the calls to go out in many of the cities where strikes had not already been inaugurated. The news service throughout the East is practically unimpaired except in the cases of two or three smaller centers, and the news of the world is being moved at all points.

Business Being Resumed.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—The telegraph situation today in Chicago and throughout the entire middle West, according to officials of the Western Union and Postal, shows that during the past twenty-four hours the companies whose men went on strike have made rapid strides toward getting their business back on a normal basis. President Samuel Small of the telegraphers' union is expected to reach Chicago this afternoon. Peace efforts inaugurated by Samuel Gompers and other officers of the American Federation of Labor are still under way.

Traders' Burden Lightened.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—This morning the regular Western Union service to the floor of the board of trade was resumed.

"Alton's" Immunity Bath Changes
Judge Landis's Program.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—Judge Landis in the United States district court has postponed until September the grand jury investigation of the charges of rebating against the Chicago & Alton railroad, growing out of the recent trial which resulted in the conviction of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana and the imposing of a $29,240,000 fine. It was the original intention to begin the investigation Aug. 27, but Judge Landis said that he had received a notification from Attorney General Bonaparte that immunity had been promised the Chicago & Alton railroad, and the judge ordered the adjournment in order that the records of the case might be looked into.

BINGHAMTON MAN IN LUCK

"Jones of Binghamton" was in town last night, not he who "pays the freight," but John C. Jones, as he registered at the Scanlan House.

For a few hours Jones was sad and despondent, and was not afraid to tell his troubles. Later in the day he was the happiest stranger within our gates, when he came up to the clerk of the Scanlan House and whispered, "I found 'em; got 'em down at Hargrove & Mullin's. Now I can eat a good dinner and look forward to smoking a Wadsworth Bros. 'Chico' afterwards. Hargrove & Mullin says they have not had the 'Chico' in stock very long, but they are already making a lot of friends. "Strange how homesick it makes a man to lean over a cigar case and not see a brand that he ever heard of before. That was the way I felt all day, but when I went into Hargrove & Mullin's and saw my old friend, the Wadsworth Bros. 'Chicos,' I knew there was a good smoke coming to yours truly. It only costs 5 cents, but there is no 10c. cigar that is as good, and I have smoked most of them."
